

Interior Office Design

While employed at Holey Associates in San Francisco, Rob was project manager and lead designer of the interior design for a 25,000 s.f. open office plan for Axiom Consulting in San Francisco, CA. The design facilitates a flexible, open office solution allowing for the accommodation of permanent and temporary employee workstations. Mobile work surfaces and thorough provisioning of data and power access provide for maximum flexibility. Attention was made towards the creation of quiet rooms, phone booths and smaller, more intimate private spaces within the open plan to allow for privacy when required.
